Data Source

The Union Membership and Coverage Database, available at www.unionstats.com, is an Internet data resource providing private and public sector labor union membership, coverage, and density estimates compiled from the Current Population Survey (CPS), a monthly household survey, using BLS methods. Economy-wide estimates are provided beginning in 1973; estimates by state, detailed industry, and detailed occupation begin in 1983; and estimates by metropolitan area begin in 1986. The Database, constructed by Barry Hirsch (Trinity University) and David Macpherson (Florida State University), is updated annually.

Executive Summary

- Overall Indiana's union membership has declined 31% from 1983 to 2005 (from 503,303 members in 1983 to 345,650 members in 2005).
- From 1964-2005 Indiana union membership had a high of 41% of the labor force in 1964 and a low of 11% in 2004.
- Construction union membership has averaged 32% of the labor force with a high of 42% in 1983 and a low of 20% in 2005.
- Manufacturing union membership has decreased from 1983 to 2005 by 56%. From 297,095 in 1983 to 131,160 in 2005, with a high of 314,190 members in 1984 and a low of 108,594 members in 2004.
